

CARRANZA BREAKS NEUTRALITY PACT; WILSON MAY ACT

Gen. Calles Captures Naco, on Arizona Line—U. S. Demands Withdrawal.

POSSIBLE OPENING FOR INTERVENTION

WASHINGTON, July 22.—An issue has been raised between the United States and the Carranza faction in Mexico that may force the hands of the government in its relations with the republic south of the border.

Carranza has violated the neutrality of Naco, just across the line from Nogales, Ariz., and sharp representations have been sent to him in which he has been called upon to withdraw his troops from that town. If Carranza should refuse to do so, it would be in violation of the neutrality of Naco by the use of troops or resort to other measures that might lead to serious consequences.

The belief is general in the Administration that it is disposed to intervene in Mexico the opportunity will be afforded in the event of the failure of Carranza to withdraw his army from Naco. In unofficial quarters the opinion is expressed that even if Carranza refuses to retire from Naco the Administration will continue to temporize with the Mexican question for a time at least.

May Shut Off Arms Supply.

There is one way that the Administration could punish Carranza without a resort to arms if he repudiated the agreement under which Naco was guaranteed by the Mexican factions at the instance of the United States. This would be by shutting off his supply of arms and ammunition from the United States. Such action may be taken by the President under the authority of a resolution passed by Congress in 1913. Carranza is divided in Washington as to what representation he will make to the representatives bearing on the occupation of Naco by his troops. If he refuses to vacate it, he will be accepted as a sign that he is looking for trouble. In recent months Carranza has studiously followed a course designed to gain him the good will of the Washington Government. Accordingly officials were amazed when they learned that Gen. Calles, the Carranza commander, who signed the Naco agreement in behalf of the First Chief, had attacked and captured the town.

The demand upon Carranza to direct the withdrawal of his troops was forwarded to John R. Stilleman, the United States Consul, late this afternoon. It should reach Carranza tomorrow and this Government should be advised of his intentions soon. Naco was made a neutral town because fighting in that neighborhood would seriously affect the property in Nogales, Ariz. In the conference that led to the agreement the United States was represented by Major Gen. Scott and the Carranza Government by Major Gen. Maytorena. The agreement in behalf of Villa and Gen. Calles acted for the Carranza faction.

Disorder in Cananea.

Advices received at the State Department today summarized conditions in Cananea as follows:

"The Department is in receipt of advice from the border stating that on the afternoon of the 19th the officials, police and many others in Cananea left the town, as a result of which there was disorder. It is stated that there was a severe fire around the Mercantile Bank, which was controlled with difficulty after the firemen had worked on it for two hours. Carranza troops were expected in Cananea on the 20th.

The Department has received a telegram from Vera Cruz, dated July 21, stating that about 1,000 workmen of the Huasteca Electric Company went on strike on the 19th, causing the company's plant to cease operations. It is stated that the company recently settled a strike by increasing the men's wages from 50 per cent. to 100 per cent. The company claims that further demands are unreasonable. It is further reported that the local authorities appreciate the situation and have granted protection to the company's property. It is stated that American employees will operate the plant pending a settlement of the strike.

NO AID FOR HUERTA.

He Denies Report of Offer From Guatemalan President.

PASADENA, Tex., July 22.—Gen. Victor Huerta characteristically today ascribed letters published in La Voz de Revolution of Merida, Yucatan, purporting to show assistance of the President of Guatemala in overthrowing the revolutionary elements in Mexico. Gen. Huerta showed little inclination to discuss the subject in detail, but he said the published letters, ostensibly being the signature of the President of Guatemala, offered Gen. Huerta the use of Guatemalan territory for the purpose of attacking and training the army of Guatemala. Gen. Jose Ynez Salazar, formerly one of Huerta's generals, who was captured by American troops when he was in the Mexican line, was brought to Pasadena today, en route to Santa Fe, N. M., where he will be held in jail pending a charge of perjury. He denied he had tried to promote a revolution in northwestern Mexico.

Wants to Be Postmaster.

HACKENSACK, N. J., July 22.—Congressman Archie C. Hart of Hackensack, N. J., the name of the post office appointment at a salary of $2,500. He is a son of Capt. John E. Hart, former counsel of the New York County Board of Freeholders and a brilliant Democrat. The nominee is 24, the youngest man ever named for a post office in this State. He is said to be the appointment is against the wishes of James Smith, Jr., of Newark, and a split in the county ranks is threatened.

STAGE MAKEUP HELPS MINISTER IN VICE HUNT

Dr. Irvine Wears False Whiskers in Getting Evidence Against Bay Shore Cabarets—Fear of Sermon Ends Lawless Practices.

BAY SHORE, L. I., July 22.—Along about the middle of last June Bay Shore was fringed with devilry. Long after midnight, when quiet citizens were snugly abed, their sleep was broken by the shrill warblings of cabaretish females singing in the outlying roadhouses, by the hoots of drinking males racing home toward the respectable streets and by outlandish choruses of automobile horns. The thing had become a scandal.

Bay Shore, which will assay at least 99 per cent. in respectability, had become annoyed, then aggrieved, then incensed, but the warblings and the hootings and the sleep destroying choruses continued. When the constables sought for evidence of violation of the excise law the evidence wasn't to be had. The roadhouse keepers were too shrewd. They knew every constable by sight.

Until the Rev. Dr. David D. Irvine, pastor of the Methodist Church, decided to give a sermon on the subject of lawlessness, the situation was not likely to change. The roadhouse keepers had a way of getting tips of forthcoming raids or official visits. So the doctor played a long game.

He went to New York and bought an assortment of false mustaches—gray, white, blond and reddish brown; a dab or two of whisker to stick under ear or chin, and a makeup box such as ladies of the chorus use to hold their cosmetics of rouge and grease paint, and a few bottles of hair oil. In the afternoon he went to the police station and the chief of police, who was in the study of the doctor's disguise, was amazed to find that the doctor was a real thing.

Fears No Men and Few Women.

"I am afraid of no man and very few women," said the doctor yesterday. "Once he got the notion firmly fixed in his head that somebody had to get the kind of evidence that would make the Bay Shore roadhouse keepers stop selling liquor at 11 P. M., the legal hour, and bring to bear such pressure as he could, he was a different man. He was willing to go to the whole route. He didn't take any of his friends into the secret. The roadhouse keepers had a way of getting tips of forthcoming raids or official visits. So the doctor played a long game."

ASKS FOR SEPARATION TO REPLACE OLD ONE

Mrs. Riegger Says Husband Used Unfair Methods to Get Her Consent.

ARNOLD F. Riegger of 3 West 122d street, president of the Art Brass Company and vice-president of the Good Manufacturing Company, makers of plumbing supplies, is defendant in a suit brought in the Supreme Court yesterday by his wife, Mrs. Josefa Riegger. In both actions Justice Gavegan signed an order directing that the papers be served by publication on Riegger at his country place at Burkehaven, N. H., because efforts made to reach him have failed.

In one suit Mrs. Riegger asks a separation on the ground of cruelty and abandonment and in the other seeks to set aside a separation agreement under which she has been receiving $150 a month. The couple were married in January, 1912. Mrs. Riegger says that in September of that year her husband persuaded her to leave their New Hampshire home and come to the Polytechnic Hospital in New York for an operation. While she was convalescing her husband signed a separation agreement with her, which she put her name to, but without realizing what it was, she said.

TULP'S RESIGNING SURPRISE.

HAACKENACK, N. J., July 22.—The announcement of the resignation of the Rev. A. Peter Tulp, for five years pastor of Christ Episcopal Church, and the accompanying news of an estrangement between him and his wife astonished Hackensack to-day.

The final preparations for Mrs. Tulp's action against her husband were not to be taken until August 2, when he was to conclude his vacation, for on August 1 he was scheduled to preach at Beacon. Mrs. Tulp's counsel, but his resignation at this time was not anticipated and I do not know whether it will hasten the suit or not.

VANDERLIP BOOSTS SO. AMERICAN TRADE

National City Bank Aiding Efforts to Get Business for United States.

CREDIT RECORDS KEPT

The National City Bank, of which Frank A. Vanderlip is president, says in its July issue of The American that the need in the development of this country's business with South America is for American merchants to take advantage immediately of the machinery at hand on which credit and financing may be extended to the South American merchants.

"The foreign trade department of the National City Bank of New York is inviting manufacturers and exporters who have done business in South America to cooperate in perfecting without waste of time a machinery for safe credit extension which will bring into play the facilities of the new banking system that they may be used for credit extensions in the other countries," says the magazine.

The National City Bank's branches have already got under way in their work of accumulating credit information and ratings in South America. A careful record has been made also of drafts going through upon South American business houses, which enables the credit department to furnish the information how these houses, in the present depression, have met their current obligations.

"The New York office has begun to receive full, detailed reports on the leading business houses who are exporters of their trade and stocks, apparent enterprise and such information about finances as is obtainable. Now the bank is asking the credit department of United States concerns that have done business with South America for information, in confidence, from their experiences."

Sermon Tells Experiences.

He wrote a sermon which he called "The Cabaret Shows of Bay Shore." The doctor himself described the sermon yesterday as "a thriller." It was a frank and picturesque account of the manners and frivolities of the cabaretish ladies and gentlemen who frequent the Bay Shore roadhouse keepers. The doctor went along and observed the details of the transaction. This occurred twice and then the doctor went home.

THE COES ARE REUNITED IN HIS ALASKA HOME

Wife Joyfully Greeted by Youth Who Disappeared From Boston.

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, July 22.—Mrs. Henry Clarke Coe, Jr., whose husband disappeared from his Boston home on January 20 and later was found here, arrived in Fairbanks at 1 o'clock this morning.

It is understood that Mrs. Coe will remain here with her husband, who is doing well in the employ of a concern manufacturing mining machinery and who says that he has no desire to return to the States.

Dr. Henry Clarke Coe, Sr., of 8 West Seventy-sixth street, said last night that he would not know until he had heard from his daughter-in-law what her plans would be. Mrs. Coe did not take her baby with her when she went to Fairbanks, not knowing at that time whether she would return to Alaska or not to the States.

Dr. Coe said that according to accounts from Fairbanks his son was doing well in his new employment and probably would remain in Alaska. The father understands that Coe's mind, to the unbalancing of which his disappearance was attributed, is rapidly recovering normal strength. Mrs. Coe made the trip in company of a party of friends who were going part way to Fairbanks.

Mrs. Coe is 25 years old and had been married eight months at the time of his disappearance. Her wife being Helen Coe, daughter of a former manager of the Hotel Majestic. A daughter was born to them on March 20, nearly two months after the husband's disappearance.

COAL TAR PLASTERS FAIR BATHERS' FEET

Sayville Girls Have Mishap on Beach—Citizen "Wireless" Story.

FOLKS down at Sayville, L. I., even when in the presence of the catastrophe that befell a party of young women bathing yesterday, were not without their sense of humor. They got a good deal of fun out of the mishap, which was a case of coal tar plastering.

A Sayville gentleman, for instance, was asked last night over the long distance telephone whether or not the story was true, and if so, what were the details.

"Story true," he answered over the telephone—and, it should be remembered, he didn't have to pay any of the telephone charges and might have stuck in "dimes" and "cents" to his heart's content.

"Party young women took sail to Fire Island beach yesterday while bathing in surf got bare feet besmeared with coal tar. They were not aware of it until they got home and found their feet plastered with coal tar. They were not aware of it until they got home and found their feet plastered with coal tar."
